

Arye Sharuz Shalicar

Up to date Insider Reports from Israel! ♥

Arye Sharuz Shalicar is a political scientist, publicist, author, and government official. Born to Jewish parents who emigrated from Persia to Germany, he grew up in Berlin. In 2001, he decided to start a new life in Israel, where he studied political science and became a spokesperson for the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) in 2009—a position he held until 2017.

Following the Hamas terror attack on October 7, 2023, he has repeatedly served as a reservist and spokesperson for the IDF. Since 2017, he has also worked as a department head in the Israeli government.

With his podcast “Nahost-Pulverfass – Kriegsbericht aus Israel” (Middle East Powder Keg – War Report from Israel), he provides regular analyses and reports on the latest developments in Israel:

 Listen to the Podcast

His well-founded commentary offers a valuable perspective that goes far beyond the often incomplete and one-sided reporting in mainstream media.

Our Encounters with Arye Sharuz Shalicar

In 2024, we had the opportunity to meet Arye in Israel: first at the Nova Festival site, where he explained the background of the devastating massacre to a German solidarity group and afterwards during a personal exchange near Tel Aviv, where we also recorded a special episode of his podcast together:

 Listen to the Special Episode

Since then, we have remained in regular contact.

In February 2025, Arye joined two Israel events we organized as a remote guest speaker, providing insights into the current situation in Israel:

 More About the Event

During our current mission in Israel, we will meet him again.